Objectives

SIPP'2011 is an international meeting intended to present recent research work connected with plasma physics and to update one's knowledge on the state of the art of these topics in Algeria. The number of masters and doctorates formed by LENREZA in the topics of plasma physics during the last decade is important; it is therefore useful and purposeful to organize a meeting on the subject which will allow the participants to extend their activities to those major issues discussed at an international level. This seminar will include course lectures, oral communications and posters.
